WASHINGTON.

The annual Masquerade and Social of Washington Division, No. 46, N. F. S. D., was held at the Division's headquarters in N. E. Masonic Temple on the evening of February 21st, 1922. From both a social and financial standpoint the affair was a huge success. Those awarded prizes by the Judges, Mrs. Percival Hall, Mrs. E. E. Hannan and Mr. Michael Weinstein, President of Baltimore Division, No. 47, were: Mrs. Vernier, Spanish dancing girl; Miss Violet Colby, Irish girl; Mr. E. E. Hannan, Hebrew, Mr. J. T. Flood, Irishwoman. The success of the affair was due to the untiring efforts of Mrs. A. J. Parker, Chairman, and her corps of assistants. Mesdames Boswell, Marshall and Souder, and Miss Julia Johnson, and Messrs. Parker, Boswell, Ferguson, Courtney and Ridgway. The next social will be held at the same place on the evening of March 17, with Mrs. E. E. Hannan in charge.

Another delightful social was held in the Sunday school house of the Calvary Baptist Church, on the evening of St. Valentine's Day. Rev. Mr. Bryant gave an account of the origin of St. Valentine's Day, which was very interesting. Misses Jones and Leitch gave a humorous dialogue, and Andy Parker, playing the role of Postmaster, delivered a bushel basket filled with valentines to those present. Various parlor games were played, and before the social broke up the usual refreshments were served. The committee in charge of the affair were Mrs. Alley, chairman, and Mesdames Bryant, R. Smoak and Souder and Miss Jones.

One of the most interesting and enjoyable parties of the season was the birthday surprise party in honor of Mrs. C. C. Colby, on the evening of February 4th. Unbeknown to the good lady, her charming daughters, Mrs. Vernier and Miss Violet Colby, had invited about a score of their mother's particular friends to be present and help her celebrate the anniversary. By a ruse, the young ladies had been able to tastefully decorate the parlors without arousing their mother's suspicions, and when the guests had arrived in a body, Mrs. Colby was taken completely off her feet with surprise. After congratulations and good wishes had been extended, the company settled down at tables and spent the evening playing "500." Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Souder won first prizes for high score number of points scored, while Mrs. Alley and Rev. Mr. Pulver were awarded the booby prizes. Before going home Mr. and Mrs. Vernier and Miss Colby treated their guests to a "spread" that has seldom been equaled and never surpassed.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Eskin essayed the role of host and hostess to about twenty of their friends, at a party at their apartment on L Street, N. E., a short time ago. Mr. Eskin and his right hand man, Raymond Johnson, performed several stunts of legdemain that mystified the onlookers. Other parlor games were played, after which a delightful luncheon and refreshments were served.

While doing some carpentry work on his coal bin a short time ago, Mr. H. S. Edgington had the misfortune to let a heavy board fall on his foot and badly bruise it. The accident forced Mr. Edgington to take to his bed for several days. Although his foot is still quite sore, he is able to be around again.

Mr. "Bill" Cooper packed his family aboard a "rattler" last Sunday, and went over to Philadelphia to spend the day at the paternal homestead. While in Quakertown Bill procured something that did not belong to him—a cold—and as a punishment for this act of indiscretion he has been suffering a lay off of several days from his work at the Government printery.

Mr. James Davidson, of Roanoke, Virginia, is the latest addition to the force of deaf employees at Uncle Sam's big print shop. He is holding down a job as a monotype keyboard operator, and as a dozen or more deaf young men have done, he undoubtedly will make good, and after his six-month probationary period is over will be given a permanent berth. Prior to his appointment to the Government service, Mr. Davidson was employed in the general offices of the B. & O. Railroad Company at Baltimore, Md. Mr. Davidson applied for and was granted admission to membership in Washington Division, No. 46, N. F. S. D., and he, together with several other novices, will be initiated into the mysteries of the order at the grand convocation April 8th.

Miss Ruth Nicol, of Baltimore was a recent visitor in the Capital. While here she was the guest at the homes of her brother and sister, Mr. H. O. Nicol and Mrs. John R. Courtney. Miss Helen Fish was called to her old home in Mystic, Ct., the latter part of February, to attend the funeral of a favorite aunt of hers. She has not yet returned to Washington, and we have not been advised whether she intends to resume her duties as a statistical clerk at the Census Bureau, where she has been employed for several years.

Tiring of automobiles, "Andy" Parker has provided himself with a new plaything. This time it is a camera. The numerous social events during the few weeks provided him with plenty of "material," so "Andy" got busy and made his while the calcium flashed. All joking aside, Mr. Parker is making good at his new line of endeavor; the work he has been turning out of late being very artistic.

Miss Emma Ward, of Trenton, N. J., is in Washington for an extended visit with an aunt, who is a resident of the Capital. Miss Ward is a very attractive young lady and we are more than pleased to have her with us.

Mrs. M. B. Dalton, wife of the president of Richmond, Va., Division N. F. S. D., and her young son, were in town for a few days during the latter part of February. While here she was a guest at the Duncan Smoak home on Lexington Place, N. E. Mrs. Dalton is a very charming young matron and she made a host of friends during her short stay in the Capital. Her hubby, one of the kingpins of Freedom in the Old Dominion, Brother Bush, and several other Richmonders, are expected to be on hand at the big doin's here on the night of April 8th, of which Brother R. J. Stewart (the greatest Director of them all) is in charge. Nuf. Sed!

DETROIT.

The old, old, saying, about, "too many cooks spoil the broth," can at least in this case be attributed to my error in my write-up of the Catholic Bazaar of February 11th to 13th. The enthusiasm of some of the committee over that never to be forgotten grand affair, must have caused them to overcome all sense of good judgment, when I interviewed them. In omitting the real person that was responsible for its grand success they caused no end of discord in Catholic circles, and Ye scribe was besieged with mail and personal calls. However the very courteous and frank letter from Mrs. J. Walters, nee Miss Donohue, a leading worker for the Catholic Church and right hand man of Father Kauffman, in a (or woman) of Father Kauffman. This letter caused me to realize out of justice to these enterprising deaf, that a correction was in order. In her letter Mrs. Walters states that the amount realized from the bazaar was not $5000 but $7800, also she emphatically adds that the money realized was not raised to go to a fund to build a $1,000,000 school for the Deaf in Cincinnati, O., but to be used to build a much needed club house for the Catholic deaf right here in Detroit.

She also states I erred when I wrote Charlotte Eickhoff aided in selling those booklets for their building fund, and not the blind of Flint. In ending, she said the credit for the success rightly belongs to Father Kauffman, who was tireless in his efforts to make it a huge success. Without him, we would not have realized $7800. It is with the greatest pleasure that I make this correction, out of respect to Father Kauffman, who is loved and respected by every deaf-mute in Detroit. Also to make matters more explicit, I will with the editor's permission, publish a clipping from the Sunday News of February 12th. This gives a most accurate account of the whole affair. Unfortunately I did not get possession of it until handed to me by Mrs. Wm. Rheiner, wife of the inventor of the Hanging Chandelier. If I may remark, Mr. Rheiner has all ready procured the patent through the good help of Father Kauffman.

"A bazaar and exhibition of the work done by deaf-mutes opened Saturday in the Holy Rosary Hall, Woodward and Harper Avenues, under the auspices of the Ephpheta Society for Deaf Mutes.

"The society is raising money to build a home for deaf-mutes in Detroit. The home will be centrally located, and will contain a gymnasium, assembly hall, rooms in which women many entertain, and a chapel.

"A great variety of work done by deaf-mutes is on exhibition, both from Detroit and other cities. Fancy work, oil paintings, and crayon portraits, are the principal articles.

"A chandelier which may be lowered so as to make it a reading lamp, is one of the features of the bazaar. It was invented by William Rheiner, 3907 Sylvester Avenue. It is operated on a system of weights, so that it will slide down a central post, bringing the light near whatever work is being done. Mr. Rheiner is trying to obtain a patent on the device. The bazaar closed Monday night."

It was a joyous gathering, of about thirty of Detroit's silent colony, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Jones, Saturday evening, March 11th.

It was ostensibly a card party, to which Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Kenney were invited as "guests" with the others.

But in reality it was a surprise party, in honor of Mrs. Kenney's birthday, and to say the surprise was complete would be putting it mildly—they were completely non-plussed, and unable to say a word, and Mrs. Kenney was moved to tears. A right royal good time was had, with refreshments thrown in, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenney were showered with a miscellaneous array of valuable and useful presents, that will give them daily remembrance of the party of loyal friends. The party broke up at 1:30 A.M., and everybody went home happy. The affair was managed by Mrs. R. V. Jones and Miss Helena Warsaw.

March 4th, the much promised moving pictures show took place at the D. A. D. Hall. Ralph Adams, as usual, made a huge success of the venture. Standing room, was at a premium. The success of this first venture may be the means of a moving picture machine being purchased by the club members. This show was under the auspices of the Detroit N. F. S. D. Division, No. 2.

That St. Paul Savings Club gave its social at the club room, March 11th. A good-sized crowd turned out. The main attraction was a very amusing affair by Mr. Asa Stutsman and Miss Eva Vanasse, who rendered "Yankee Doodle" in a way that delighted all. Miss Eva Vanasse then gave an exhibition of the Scotch Highland fling. Miss Vera Chapman, although her maiden effort, recited "The Right Road," in a way that excited admiration. Mrs. Ben Beaver, Secretary of the Club, advises all to join the club. Its object is to save money for all members so as to defray expenses to the N. F. S. D. Convention. The proceeds from socials will be divided among members. The auction of pies, donated by members at this meeting, which sold from sixty cents up to $2.55, indicates that the members will have a tidy sum by the time the N. F. S. D. Convention meets.

The mysterious disappearance of John Rutherford, on or about February 20th, has been cleared up. He turned up at the club room recently all smiles. Accompanying him was a buxom and blushing bride. He was married to Miss Anna Belle Rhodes, of Greenville, S. C., February 25th. Mrs. Rutherford has been in Detroit and adjoining towns twice, so is not entirely a stranger. They will be at home in May. Mr. Rutherford is a widow with two children.

Detroit Amateur Athletic Club is preparing for its outdoor meets. Among the members is "Eddie" Rayne, who is the proud possessor of several medals, won at high and broad jump and short distance runs. "Eddie" expects to break all records this year, as he is in perfect condition.

John Cardano, of St. Joseph, Mich., dropped in on old friends at the D. A. D. Hall. He was one of the auctioneers at the St. Paul savings club.

Frank Maue and E. J. Homan, of Hamtramck, and pure orators, are working respectively at the Barbour Brass Manufactory and Kenath Whitecomb Manufactory, at good wages. They are trying to master the sign language hence their presence at the club.

Mrs. Ben Dahm acted as Chairman of the February box social at the Ladies' Guild. The crowd, although not up to its usual standard, a fair-sized profit was realized.

Mrs. Peter McNulty, Chairman of the Sick Committee, regrets that Miss Pampha is on the sick list. The Ladies of the Guild will see that she is not lacking in proper care.

The Cabinet Chest box that Mrs. G. E. M. Nelson presented to the Guild was made the object of a dainty tan cover by Mrs. R. H. McLaughlin, President of the Guild. Mrs. McLaughlin has also put in her spare time making a number of bags to be used the Guild's November Bazaar. The ladies ask those who have absented themselves from the Guild meetings to respond to the call of their sisters and come back to the fold.

Mrs. Jas Henderson and her committee embroidered six new table cloths for the Guild Feb. 22d. The ladies gathered at the home of Mrs. Henderson to do the work. A lively race was made as to who was the fastest sewer. Miss Matilda Stark and Mrs. D. Jounson were easily the prize winners.

April 17th, the Ladies' Guild will tender a Lenten Social, under the management of the Lenten Committee. Among the attractions will be a lecture by R. V. Jones, who conducts the evening service at St. John's Chapel every Sunday. A lecture by him is worth coming miles to see.

A CORRECTION.

In the issue of March 2d, the following item of news was printed: "The Newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Beaver, have received the glad tidings of the arrival of a baby girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Collett."

Lost there should be a misunderstanding of the item, the subjoined makes it clear as to facts, persons, and places:—

A baby girl was born on December 27th, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Collette, of Lansing, Mich. Mrs. Collette was better known as Miss Bertha Hamilton, teacher at Flint. She was the lady who sang "Michigan, My Michigan," at the Detroit N. A. D. Convention banquet in 1920.

AN APPEAL.

We hope the JOURNAL readers will contribute to the very worthy cause set forth in the appeal of Mr. Tse Tien Fu.

Nationality should not play a part in helping our brethren who are deaf. All the world of deaf-mutes are brothers and sisters. Their concern and trouble should be ours. Let us all help in conferring upon one or more deaf-mutes the blessings of education.

Contributions sent to E. A. Hodgson, Editor DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, P. O. Station M, New York City, will be publicly acknowledged, and forwarded promptly.

APPEAL OF THE HANGCHOW PRIVATE SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF.

The school for the Deaf in Hangchow has been running for seven years. There are many students who are anxious to come. But we are in short of fund, we are not able to receive them all. We feel very sorry that we have to turn them away.

Some time ago we received $75.00 through Silent Worker towards the fund of our school. We are indeed grateful. Our students will never forget the kindness of our foreign friends.

At present we are sending out an appeal through DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL in hope that those who are interested in our Deaf School in Hangchow may be willing to contribute some money to help the school. In order that we may receive more students. The deaf through the agency of our work may also receive the Gospel. Those who desire to contribute please send this money to Mr. Edwin A. Hodgson.

Sincerely yours,

TSE TIEN FU.

FREDERICK, MD.

Last month a party of Frederick Frats—namely, Messrs. Benson, Bernac, Quinn, Shockley and Wriede, all members of Baltimore Division No. 47, motored to the Monumental City, enroute visiting the Little Home School for the deaf children at Irvington and the School for Blind and Colored at Overlea. At the latter named school they had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Stegmerten, principal of the school for Colored Deaf, and Mr. Murphy, cabinetmaking instructor. In the evening they attended a social at the Frat Headquarters.

The museum of the Maryland State School for the Deaf has just received a splendid contribution in the form of a letter, penned on white silk cloth, by Henry Clay, on July 25, 1842. An extract of the letter is printed below for those interested. The donor of this valuable gift is none other than our friend, Rev. Oliver J. Whildin.

ASHLAND 25th July, 1842.

DEAR SIR.—I received your letter of the 16th inst. and thank you for the friendly interest you so kindly take in my welfare. I agree with you that the condition of our country and of its government is most deplorable. And I believe that we can only be delivered from the evils which encompass us by great and strenuous exertions and the blessing of Providence. I am afraid that you estimate too highly aught in my power.

The grave subject, which you so fervently recommend to my serious consideration, does not escape my attention. Undoubtedly prayer—earnest, devout and constant prayer—should be offered up to that God, who can best relieve, protect and preserve us; but I think it would be also wise to omit no honorable endeavor which we can make to serve and sustain our country, in our respective spheres and vocations.

I am with great respect,
MR. CHARLES CROOK Your obedient servant,
Baltimore, Md. H. CLAY.

The well known all-around star athletes, Noah Downes and James Behrens, both graduates of the Maryland State School for the Deaf, have been performing brilliantly on the court this season with the Frederick Co. A Quint. Papers all around this section have been commenting upon the playing of these two deaf young men, who have been causing much worry to all opposing guards.

Behrens is not a newcomer, as he has played three successive seasons with the Holy Cross Lyceum of the Baltimore Basket-ball League. "Speed" Behrens, as he is called, has gained recognition for his speedy work as an all-around basketball, and for the fact that he set up a new record in the aforesaid league, when on one occasion he netted the ball twenty-seven times before he was forced to retire, on account of a sprained ankle, with fifteen minutes more to play.

Below is printed an extract from the Frederick Post speaking the deserved praise of these two sterling players.

Here's to company A's basket-ball team. A team that gained renown; They know the game from A to Z, And are surely hard to down. They traveled North, They traveled South, They traveled East and West, And you can bet your bottom dollar They seldom came off second best.

Here's to our silent Behrens, Long, lanky and so lean; But at shooting the old basket He's the best that we have seen. Last but not least, dear nightjowl, Is our old friend Noah Downes; He's the greatest basket-ball player That ever came to town. At shooting he is a marvel, At guarding he is a fiend, At dribbling that old apple He's the best I've ever seen.

A MARYLANDER.

Mr. Roland Stultz, of Baltimore, was a visitor in Frederick recently, and incidentally visited his Alma Mater. Mr. Stultz and his friend, Michael Weinstein, have purchased a splendid photography outfit, with the intention of opening a studio as soon as they can get suitable accommodations. At present both young men are slinging types in a Baltimore printing office.

From the stir of life among the deaf of Maryland, the writer gathers that much interest in being centered upon the approach of the reunion of the Alumni of the Maryland State School for the Deaf next June. Supt. Bjorlee informed the writer that a record attendance is assured. Full particulars and the exact date of the reunion will be announced at a later date.

At the recent meeting of the Baltimore Division No. 47, the following officers were elected: President, Michael Weinstein; Vice-President, Herbert Leitch; Secretary, O. K. Price; Treasurer, W. G. Stone; Sergeant-at-Arms, John Kuhn; Director, Gary Davis.

Before taps was sounded over the 1921-1922 basket-ball season of the Maryland State School for the Deaf tossers, the silent cadets made the event merry in Shepherdstown by easily trouncing the strong American Legion Quint 60-27.

The deaf lads played a fast machine-like game, which was marked by excellent guarding on the part of Serio and Urbanski, and wonderful long-range shooting by Metty, who constantly had the spectators on their feet. Stern as usual proved himself a big factor in scoring, with twelve tallies to his credit. McCalm was closely guarded, but played a fine game on the floor.

With the fall of the curtain over the present basket-ball season, we announce the record of the M. S. D. on the court. The list below shows sixteen games played. Eleven played away and five at home, of which ten were won against six lost. Coach Benson calls this the best season in many years.

THERE have been many wonderful accomplishments of the blind-deaf featured in the public press, from the time when Charles Dickens made Laura Bridgman famous to the present day of the optimistic Helen Keller, who is featured and exploited as the wonder-woman of the century, but nothing so pathetically earnest and fine in its simplicity as is recorded in the Fanwood column of this issue of the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL.

Read the program published therein, in which two blind-deaf boys entertain the members of the Fanwood Literary Association. These boys are in their teens, and the playlet enacted, as well as the stories they told, came from their own fertile, cheerful, imaginations. They entertained the entire school assembled for an hour, and were deservedly applauded.

Out of the darkness and silence which enshrouds their lives, the ingenious, merry and philosophic stories came.

From hearts and minds cheered and enlightened by patient teaching, was evolved a little drama portraying their conception of plot and action on the stage—something they had never seen and never hope to see. It is very remarkable, and deserving of special mention. It is true that the entire entertainment given by these deaf-blind boys was neither deep nor learned, but every number on the program was rich in originality and charming in its quaint simplicity. Though they are blind to outer light, they are blessed with the true light that illumines from within.

A great many years ago we read of a blind and deaf boy who answered at Thanksgiving time the question, "What are you thankful for?" Many others, gifted with the five senses, had made answers of more or less merit. But the blind-deaf boy eclipsed them all. "I," he said, "thank God 'tis not with others as 'tis with me."

OUR readers have responded generously to the request for contributions to help the Chinese deaf-mute add an additional pupil to the school for the deaf which he is conducting in Hangchow, China. We desire to send at least $100, and up to this date we lack fifteen dollars to complete the fund. We hope by next week to have reached the required amount. Those who feel this charity to be a worthy one are asked to send in a dollar quickly, so that the printed "appeal" and bulletin may be discontinued.

Gallaudet College.

The annual G. C. A. A., supper will be given in the men's refectory on the evening of March 25th.

The college library, which for the past few years has been under the care of Miss Nelson, has been daily assuming a more and more attractive appearance. A new stand for reference books was lately installed. Books touching upon vital subjects and such as are likely to appeal to young college people are regularly added. These are added to accommodate those who desire to do supplementary reading to their texts from other and latest publications. The college library is also a branch of the public library for residents of Kendall Green.

The May and June issues of the Buff and Blue will be merged into one number, the Senior number. This was made necessary because of the earlier closing of college and for financial reasons.

Basket Ball letters were distributed by Dr. Ely in chapel, Monday evening, March 13th. LaFountain, '23 (Captain), Baynes '23, Seipp '24, and Boatwright '24, received the Varsity G. Lucado '23, was presented with the A. G. A. for three years mention's service on the squad. Schraeger, '24, Assistant Manager, received Special Mention for his faithful and efficient service. Bradley, P. C., was given Special Mention for his dash and persistently good playing. Honorable Mention was extended to Danofsky, '25, and Wallace, P. C. The Varsity G went to Manager Lindholm, and a vote of thanks to Coach Cooper.

Prof. Skyberg delivered the Sunday afternoon sermon. His subject was "The Crutches of Doubt."

There will be no Sunday School or chapel services next Sunday. Monday will be a holiday. Tuesday, the third term begins.

Last week mention was made of the baseball schedule. We are giving it in full as given out by Manager Aronovitz.

March 25.—Briarley Hall Military Academy.

March 29.—Catholic University at Brookland.

April 5.—St. Johns at Annapolis.

April 8.—Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore.

April 12.—Hamden Sidney College.

April 17.—U. of Maryland.

April 29.—Blue Ridge College.

May 6.—St. Johns College.

May 10.—U. of Maryland at College Park.

May 17.—Western Maryland College at Westminster.

May 30.—Blue Ridge College at New Windsor.

Saturday evening, March 18th, there was a moving picture entertainment in Chapel Hall. Three Pathe pictures were shown.

We must hand it to Randall, '23. He's consistent. His latest addition to his collection of sporting goods is a Springfield Ross army rifle. Most any evening he can be seen oiling the muzzle and gunlock. Meanwhile he has completed drawings for a twenty foot sloop, which he romantically dubs "Dream Girl." As near as we can figure, he is preparing to navigate up and down the Gulf Stream, and possibly to do some alligator shooting into the bargain.

Bluffs, 11 Blues, 18

Wednesday afternoon the Co-eds sent two picked teams on the gymnasium floor to contest the annual clash between the Bluffs and Blues. Throughout the day intense rivalry was displayed among the supporters of the two teams, and at the game this feeling was at the high-water mark.

The gallery for the rooters of the Blues fairly outdid the one containing the Bluffs, as far as noise is concerned. The Blues had a bass drum, and its notes sounded like peals of thunder. On the other hand, the Bluffs covered themselves with glory using a snare drum, tin cans, dumbbells, etc.

The game was an interesting affair between two teams evenly matched. There was never a dull moment, and the spectators were kept on the edge throughout the game. The Blues drew first blood when Miss Sandberg tossed a two-point ringer. After that it was the Blues games, although the Bluffs tied the score once and were in the game every minute.

Miss Sowell was a tower of strength to the Blues, as she guarded Leclere so closely that the young lady did not score as freely as was predicted. Miss Clemons did wonderful work for the Blues at centre. She showed great skill in dribbling the ball, and almost always she obtained the jump on her opponent. Miss Sandberg scored all of the Blues' points. We are all praise for her, because it was her gameness that served the Blues in good stead. Misses Kliaits and Dibble were also prominent in the Blues victory.

Miss Leclere was the best performer for the Bluffs, scoring nine of the eleven points for her side. Had she not been covered by Miss Sowell we hesitate to say what the score would have been. At guard Miss Moss showed up best, although she did not play up to her usual standard. Miss Crump was good at side centre, while Misses Dobson, Robinson and Ballance were also good performers for the Bluffs. Final score Blues, 18; Bluffs, 11.

Line-up and summary:

Bluffs	L.F.	Robinson
Hughes	R.F.	Leclere
Sandberg	C.	Ballance
Clemons	S.C.	Crump
Dibble	L.G.	Dobson
Kliaits	R.G.	Moss
Sowell

Substitutions. Blues—Epley for Hughes, Suttka for Epley. Field goals—Sandberg (8), Leclere (5), Robinson (1). Foul goals—Sandberg (3), Leclere (3). Referee—Mr. Hughes.

Baseball practice has been under way for some time, and the prospects of a good team are most promising. Under the guidance of Teddy Hughes the team is rapidly rounding out into mid-season form.

Among the veterans to report were Captain Boatwright, Lucado, Lahn, Seipp, Markel and Danofsky. The new material is much better than that of last year. A few of the new candidates have made a good impression on Coach Hughes and Captain Boatwright.

Rose looks best for the receiving end of the battery, although Knauss is a good man for that position too. At first Bradley seems to have first call. He is a good fielder and a has shown that he knows how to bat. Second base will be held down by Danofsky, and those who are acquainted with him know that the position rests in capable hands. Seipp will be seen at short-stop.

He needs no introduction to the followers of the Buff and Blue, as his hitting and fielding has featured many of our games in the past. La Fountain is not out for the team this year, so his place at third will likely be taken care of by Hamkins. This lad is a speedy fielder and a good man at the bat, so we feel assured that the hot corner will be well taken care of. For the outfield there are such players as Lucado, Markel, Boatwright, Gilchrist and Beauchamp.

Our hurling staff will be superior to that of last year in many respects. The veteran Lahn will be there to serve them over the plate, a la "one-two-three-batter out!" Lahn has a kind of delivery that has puzzled many a batsman. Poor support lost most of the games he pitched last year, but we will have a different story to tell this time. Capt. Boatwright will also see service on the mound. He has a good fast ball that is not easily connected with. When not on the slab he will doubtless be seen at first base or in the outfield, as he is one of the best batters we have. Skinner, Beauchamp, Wallace, Pucci, Knauss, Fletcher and Burnes are candidates for mound duty.

We have a good team this year, so let's all read that little beaten path leading to Garlic Field and root for those wearing our colors on the field. And, win or lose, let's be proud of them!

In a return wrestling match Gallaudet was defeated by George Washington University, winning only one out of the five bouts. Schraeger was the only one able to pin his opponent's shoulders to the mat. Orman, Lindholm, Jones, and Rose lost their matches by decisions. This is the second time the two teams have met this year. As each side has won a match, it would be interesting to see a third match between the two teams staged in the near future.

Newspaper Published by Deaf Man.

The Redelm Record is the name of a weekly newspaper published by Mr. E. L. Schetnan, a deaf man. Redelm is in South Dakota, and there it was that our friend Schetnan found the little paper going the way of independent papers for the deaf. The Record was in its last gasps when sold to Mr. Schetnan. He immediately put it up to the merchants that the paper could not be run unless the advertising rates were adjusted to meet the general rise in commodities, and if the town wanted the paper, it was up to the merchants to agree to this change. The town wanted the paper, the merchants met the increased rates for advertising, Schetnan put new life in every column, subscriptions increased, and now the paper is doing very well, in spite of the fact that the locality has gone through the severest winter in thirty years. Hard winters in a cattle country make hard times, but the paper has pushed ahead. The Record is a four page, six-column sheet, well edited, newsy, and neatly printed.

Strange things happen, and this is one of them. The deaf fail to run a newspaper for their class, but can take hold of a dying sheet run by hearing people and make a success of it! Keep it up, Schetnan, you're not only advertising your town, but the deaf as well; for see what a deaf man can do!

CHICAGO.

Dundon, Hoy and Taylor—of the big league baseball pack;
Rowan—a pug 'o yesteryear, who drew with "Lanky Bob";
McFaul who shattered records upon the cinder track;
Smith, Martin, Deer, and Olson, and others on the job.
Behold a youth arising to join your Hall of Fame!
He hails from old Chicago town, and Mallman is his name!

Visitors to the 1920 "Fraternal" will remember that big smoker on opening night, and also remember handsome Otto Mallman—the young husky I put on as a pinch-hitter to fill the lightweight program when the National A. U. wrestling champion I had arranged to grapple failed to appear. Otto was a green boxer, so I put on the gloves with him expecting an easy victory. Green? Yes, but he packed the good old knockout punch, and had me out on my feet in the first round.

This Otto Mallman studiously pursued boxing as a side-line—a humble preliminary, pork-and-bean—waited his big chance, like the boy Lincoln once did down State. "I'll study, and get ready, and maybe my big chance will come."

So Otto studied, and punched, and got punched, and got ready—and his big chance came suddenly.

The next victim of Jimmie Muzzy "took a run out powder," as fight-fans say of a quitter who gets cold feet. This Muzzy has been cleaning them up all over Wisconsin. He is right in line for a match with Johnnie Kilbane, Cleveland—for over ten years the world's champion featherweight. Muzzy is a made-man; don't forget that.

Well, his next victim "ran out" just before a scheduled fight in Janesville, Wis., early in March, and they wired Chicago for a substitute in a hurry. Mallman (Dummy Whurley is his fighting name—bad cess to the "dummy" thing) happened to the best light lightweight on the Arcade gym. floor when the wire arrived; so Kid Howard bundled Mallman up and rushed him up to Janesville as fast as gas and rubber would bear them.

The betting was that this unknown, untrained, pinch-hitter would be knocked-out in the first or second round.

Even Howard did not concede his man a Chinaman's chance. The poor deaf-mute was to be butchered to make a Roman holiday.

The poor, doomed deaf-mute.

Mallman lasted the full ten rounds, and only Muzzy's superior experience as ring general enabled him to earn a close decision.

The Wisconsin crowd watched it through half stupefied, then rose in vociferous tribute to "the man who didn't know it couldn't be done—who he did it."

A full house saw the Honorable William J. Rodenberger, State Bank Examiner, and brother of the president of our State Association of the Deaf, address the Pas-a-Pas Club, March 18th. Members free, others 25 cents.

Rodenberger advised co-operation of the deaf in legal and legislative matters; suggesting as example the removal of our State school from the "eleemosynary" group and proper placing under the State Board of Education. "We know there are at least 3000 deaf in Chicago," he said. "But not 300 of them are properly banded or organized to stand up for their rights. Too many cliques. No central clearing house of information and ideas."

Rodenberger also pointed out the incalculable handicap placed on us by the employers' liability laws, which can not be waived. He outlined methods of combatting same, which he—as a veteran State legislator—believes will overcome this difficulty.

He also suggested Chicago silents send a deaf man to lobby before the legislature this coming session, to secure fair treatment in vital matters.

The Chicago League for the Hard of Hearing is "working its members" for the first time, instead of depending for funds on sympathetic hearing friends as heretofore. A "drive" is underway to raise $5,000—half of which has already been subscribed.

Jacksonville (where our state School is located) installed a frat division March 10 and 11. Those young hustlers defrayed the expenses of Chicago's celebrated goat and his keeper, George Brashar—also fodder and stable expenses of the animal. Division No. 1 sent down Otto Lorenz and Isadore Newman, as its representatives. Assistant Grand Secretary A. L. Roberts went down as headquarters man, the great Gib being sick abed. C. Murday went down for a good time, all expenses paid by that plethoric plutocrat, C. Murday. Following which C. Murday sent C. Murday out for a couple of months in Iowa, or somewhere—destination and reason unknown. But as Murday is a ruddy-cheeked young-old bachelor with apparently plenty of money, it is possible some buxom lassie from the provinces has succeeded, where the eligible ladies of the metropolis failed.

Miss Marie Tanzar had her hair bobbed, and looks irresistibly captivating with that wavy aureole fringing a chubby smile. It is quite probable our present generation will see bobbed, or short, hair a world-wide style. During Revolutionary times, no man was considered a gentleman unless he wore long hair, powdered and queued. Some brave soul defied tradition, and today any man with long hair is considered a lunatic. It has taken woman 150 years to follow suit, but health and comfort demand the silly custom of following locks be discarded along with the Chinaman's queue. Someday the pioneer "boppers" of Chicago's silent colony—Mrs. H. L. Leiter and Miss Tanzar—will have the laugh on whatever idiot now laughs at them. And he laughs best who laughs last.

"Spring has come," says the Rev. G. F. Flick, who opened the silent auto season by driving his Buick to Delavan on the 8th. He states Frank Pleasant is doing well at the Wisconsin State School, having bought a new Essex Coach—similar to a sedan. New, not second-hand.

Little Caroline, daughter of the Gus Hyman, who won first prize for women at the recent Pas masquerade, is critically ill with measles.

The great Gibson is back at his desk, after nearly two weeks in bed. Would have been well sooner, but he left his bed in three days and went down to headquarters, suffering a relapse and having to go back to bed for a real rest this time.

It is reported that Dan Cloud, youngest son of the Nad President, has been appointed assistant superintendent, or principal, by Dr. Do-byns of the Arkansas School.

Mrs. Bernard Jacobson served tea to some of her intimate friends, Monday, the 13th.

The ten million dollar fire of the 15th, which threw 20,000 Chicagoans out of employment (Chicago's biggest fire since the city was destroyed in 1871) is reported to have caused several silents to join the army of the unemployed. Unofficially, it is rumored that James Auld and Herman Schuettler worked in the burned area.

Mrs. C. Kraft, aided and abetted by Alma Myers and Alice Donahue, arranged a surprise party for Joe Wondra on his birthday, the 11th. Wondra is the comedian of our silent circles. West Side parties have pep and punch. So, needless to state the occasion was one where fun was fast and furious. Joe Wondra pulled a new one in one of the games—carrying beans on a knife blade. His pile proved larger than the pile of all the other contestants combined. Seemed the beans simply would not roll off his knife, while others were unable to keep the beans from slipping off as they carried them from one dish to the other. Wondra's wondrous secret is hereby revealed (try it yourself at the next party where there is a bean race, or pea race). Draw the blade of the knife across your tongue; the beans will not slip off a wet surface.

It is said the Sac has joined the Inter-city baseball league, and is signing candidates for the team.

Dates ahead. March 25th—Mock Trial, Pas. (ought to be screamingly funny.) April 6th—Gallaudet College banquet, at All Angels (for those who have attended Gallaudet only.) 8th—Business meeting of Nad branch, at Pas. 15th—"S. A. T." party, Pas.

THE MEAGHERS

OREGON—WASHINGTON.

The birthday party given to Mrs. Guile Leo Deliglio at her parental home, 291 San Rafael Avenue, Portland, last Saturday, was a huge success. About forty were present, including a dozen uninvited guests.

The Kautzs have had a siege with flu. All are well now. The A. C. McDonald family has been downed by flu for one session in bed, but has braved the attack and is now smiling and circulating.

T. C. Mueller was floored by flu for one day. Some alleged cold cure and a day in bed broke the attack. Influenza, grip, or flu, is sure hades.

Ralph Pickett has got over the toe crush and is back at work.

William Senman, Junior, has circulated among the deaf again, after a period of sickness.

The Portland Silent Five beat the Salem School for Deaf team, 32 to 25, last Wednesday. A return game will be played.

Supt. E. S. Tilloughast has got over the second operation and is apparently in better physical condition than before.

Fred Brookquest, the versatile handy man at the Washington School for the Deaf, has been under the care of a doctor at the new hospital. His case has not been diagnosed.

The Washington School for the Deaf is still quarantined against visitors.

Ed. Spieler has planted a garden and has made a chicken house and runway in readiness for the future.

Joe Sutherland has finished his home and may be back at work for the Street Railway Company.

T. C. Mueller is reported to have made an offer for the P. H. Durne prune ranch of five acres just outside Vancouver.

Sallie Martin Bradley recently lost one of her two sons in Texas.

Willie Stanley Hunter, Jr., escorted his grandmother to the farm near Walla Walla, where he will enjoy life.

Ed. C. Langlois has been pruning the Louis A. and Philip Henry Divine ranches. This timely pruning of the prune trees will mean better fruit and more money. The cold winters have prevented bud growth and spring frosts are not likely to hurt the buds.

Laura Hogan Anderson, sister of Mrs. Geo. W. Kriedt, Selma Hogan, and the Hogan boys in the Oregon State School for the Deaf, died last week of pneumonia, developed from flu, after a very brief illness.

Frances Por, diminutive Chinese American girl, was knocked down by an auto last week as she was trying to catch a car. She got up and boarded the car, and till she was in Meier and Frank's did she realize she was badly hurt. She was in the hospital one day and did not go to work for three days.

Effie Myrick Kriedt Gerde bears a charmed life, apparently, she and her auto tried somersaults double, triple and quadruple, down grade, and they came up smiling and ready for more. Did I see it? No, I was told so, and can not see any reason to doubt the story.

Governor Hart and State officials inspected the School for Deaf at Vancouver, and were entertained with a banquet. Of course the school was in fine shape.

Ed. C. Langlois has been pruning the P. H. and L. A. Divine prune orchards, taking in payment a lease on two acres of hillside to be planted in grapes.

Ed. C. Langlois pokes fun at my championship of Luther Burbank, whom he styles a great talker and a little doer. He claims a tin can over a broken limb in the P. H. Divine prune orchard is an attempt by L. H. B. to produce canned prunes. Ridicule ever has been the argument of the jealous, defeated, or the demagogue.

Tom Graham visited his niece at Camas this week.

Fred Bjorkquest is sick with erysipelas.

The little Deliglio boy seems to take after his mother in quick intelligence.

The Blue Bird Club now styles itself S. F. L. C., which is Service, Friendship and Loyalty.

Jake Garberson, or Garbarino, still walks about when watched with one hand over the place where lumbago is indicated, and groaning. Lumbago is easily cured with application of heat.

Mr. M. Miller's baby had the Diphtheria, but has recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wall have the sympathy of the deaf upon the sudden death of their baby Friday, March 3, 1922.

April 19th the L. A. will have their Social at the Home, and the members' husbands will take charge of the affair. Let us see if they can do better than their wives.

The Clark graduates gave their reception on March 4th, at Huntington Hall. Fifty guests attended, with Miss Yale, the Principal of Clark School, Northampton, Mass.

The L. A. Whist Party was held at Mr. and Mrs. Gill's residence and about forty-five guests attended. Prizes went to: 1st, Mrs. L. Clark, and Arthur Woods; 2d, Mrs. Bertha Woods, and Robert Williams; and 3d, Mrs. Marion Lane and William McIntyre. Refreshments were served. The profit is about $40.

The L. A. Social and Supper Party will be given by Mrs. William Abbott, of Lowell, on March 25th, for the Building Fund.

There will be a lecture given at Trinity Church, March 26th, at 3:30 P.M.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. and Mrs. Mercer have sold their three-family house and moved to Los Angeles, California. We will all miss her and her wonderful work for the L. A.

The N. E. J. D. A. Regular Meeting was held March 19th, at the Y. M. H. A. More members are coming in slowly. The Entertainment Committee are looking forward to a party in April to raise funds for the sufferers in Russia.

The K. of D. will give a whist party, on April 22d, at St. Rose Hall, Worcester Street, Boston.

ALBANY, N. Y.

DELIGHTFULLY SURPRISED.

On March 12th, a most delightful surprise birthday party was tendered Miss Elise Cermak at her home, 204 Fourth Avenue, Schenectady, N. Y., by a few deaf friends.

She was presented with a beautiful mahogany clock and showered with many other useful gifts, including a piece set of white French ivory.

Green and white formed the color scheme in decoration of the rooms and table, in the center which stood a large birthday cake. Favors were tiny green baskets filled with candy.

Jolly games and jokes were enjoyed and all who attended had an immensely good time.

Among those present were the Misses Beatrice Freunz, Madeline Becker, Margaret Dalton, Ethel Cermak, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Piccard, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spivak, the Messrs. Robert Armstrong, Milton Robertson, Louis Borowick, Joseph Cermak, Earl Calkins, Mrs. Anna Cermak and Mrs. Frank Cermak.

Fake Mute Trims Printers and Then Gets "The Gate."

It was the illustrious Mr. Barnum who made the statement that there was "one born every minute," and it remained for a more recent sophisticated gent to add that "sometimes they come in twins."

Which leads up to the still more recent amendment addressed to the world in general, that one half the world sits up nights to figure out new ways of "trimming" the other half.

All of which brings us up to the sad case of "Doc" Richard B. Ayres, compositor.

"Doc" was peacefully battering away at his typotype keyboard in the Home News composing room the other day, when suddenly there was thrust before him a small lettered envelope. "Doc" looked around to see if the "runner" was watching him and took the proffered envelope from the stranger. This is what he read on the envelope:

"For a worthy cause, I am a deaf-mute trying to get sufficient funds to start a bootblack stand by selling pure lavender flowers. Will keep moths from wardrobes, clothes, trunks, etc. Please take a package and help me out. Price ten cents."

Printers are noted for their open-hearted generosity and "Doc" is no exception. He mumbled something about not owning any wardrobe, but he "dug down," purchased an envelope for his girl friend in Caurse and introduced the mendicant to some of his fellow printers.

Among the other more or less sympathetic members of "Big Six" were Gus Hill, who hails from Cypress Hills section of Brooklyn, and Jack Koneigsamen, who favors about Westchester when he isn't tickling the typotype ivories. Apparently Gus has "some" wardrobe as he purchased three packages of the moth annihilator. Koneigsamen also decided he needed a quantity of the "pure lavender flowers" and he went about among his friends to collect the required dime.

It was a lucky search for Koneigsamen

THE NEIGHBORLY CIRCLE

The Neighborly Circle, which meets every Thursday for afternoon tea and a social time at the members' residences, had its first meeting in the apartment of Miss Howard. The following week Mrs. C. C. McMann served tea, assisted by Mrs. A. Pfeiffer, and the week after Mrs. A. A. Barnes. The following Thursday, although a stormy day, all the members gathered in the cozy apartment of Mr. M. Haight.

An invitation was extended the Neighborly Circle by Mrs. B. Buhle, of Youkers, to a luncheon birthday party, given in honor of Mrs. W. Buhle, on February 23. A most delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. B. Buhle in the spacious dining room; last but not least of all, the good things was the large fruit cake with seven lighted candles on each side. At the large table in the center of the room were seated Mrs. W. Buhle, with Miss S. Howard at her right and Miss Solomon at her left. Mrs. Haight, Mrs. Barnes, Mrs. Pfeiffer, Mrs. McMann. At the small table were Mrs. B. Buhle, Mrs. Hook, Miss Solomon and Mr. J. Howard.

In the games Mrs. A. Pfeiffer won first prize, a very pretty Japanese box, holding dainty toilet requisites, a stately peacock, designed in gilt on the cover, symbolic of good luck. Miss Solomon won second prize, a bath-towel worked in blue on the edges by Mrs. B. Buhle, who was the donor of the gifts.

At the conclusion of the luncheon, Miss Howard made a few remarks, in which she said she was a little girl when she first saw Mrs. Buhle, during her happy school days at Fanwood, and although it was many years ago Mrs. Buhle had changed very little, and her hair, which was the envy and admiration of her classmates, was more beautiful than ever. In behalf of the Circle, she presented her with a jet necklace, and the loving wishes, happy returns of her birthday, and continual blessings.

MR. A. A. BARNES REMEMBERED.

Mr. Albert A. Barnes, who is now in his eighty-fifth year, was remembered on his birthday, by his friends and neighbors, and although he did not expect them, they all received the same worthy welcome as in the days gone by. His daughter, Miss Helen, assisted by her friend, Miss Lenna, served refreshments.

A large frosted fruit cake had which in the center the dates 1837-1921, was presented him by his friends.

Those present besides Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, their charming daughter Helen and her friend, were: Mrs. W. Buhle, Mrs. M. Haight, Mr. and Mrs. McMann, Miss S. Howard and Miss G. Jerley.

ALPHABET A. O. NEWS

"Was a merry crowd that attended the Alphabets' Country Store and Dance last Saturday; for throughout the evening, there was nothing but a good time to be had. Games for prizes and other amusements were galore. There was a Fishing Pond, everyone who planted their hook behind a screen caught a fish (fruit or candy). And there was Q-Pla and arrow throwing, and trying to put an arrow in the red heart on the target was good sport indeed. The highest and following marksmen were, Mr. Mike Schriber, Mr. Koster and Mr. Henry Miller, who received prizes. Then came a water drinking contest, which was won by Mary Herzlinger and Mike Schriber. Next was a Potato Race which was won by Mrs. M. Rubin and Albert Burger. The guessing contest was won by Mr. Peterson by a margin of one piece. All contestants won prizes.

Good music was furnished and dancing went on throughout the evening.

It would be worth while for those who failed to attend to watch out for the Alphabets' next affair next fall—something good, too.

Owing to the sudden illness of Chairman Criswell, Jack Ebin like a flash filled his shoes and carried everything through with flags flying.

Among the new applicants, who passed with flying colors, are Mr. Abraham Grossman and Edward Malloy.

H. A. D. NOTES

"The World of To-day" was the subject of an interesting lecture delivered by Mr. Marcus L. Keener at the Friday evening services, March 17th.

This Friday, the 24th, the lecture will be Dr. Newman, Rabbi of Temple Israel. Dr. Newman is a widely known speaker, having been assistant to Dr. Stephen S. Wise. He will be sure to interest those who intend to be present. All are welcome.

TEXAS.

Well, here we are once more, after an absence of several months. Although there has been plenty of news down in this neck of woods, the time in which to get the news together and send it to the JOURNAL has been rather scarce, in fact it has been as scarce as a Negro around a Ku Klux Klan meeting. However, we have no excuses to offer for our long absence, which we feel has been missed not a bit by the JOURNAL readers.

At a meeting of the deaf teachers and officers connected with the Texas School for the Deaf, recently held at the home of W. H. Davis, the deaf teachers went on record as being in favor of making an effort to put a stop to the use of slang signs, vulgar and indecent gestures, which have sprung up in our sign language during the past several years. There are many signs which are not only vulgar but, suggestive and indecent in the extreme, and it is the intention of the local deaf teachers to take the matter up at once, and a campaign will henceforth be waged to the death with the use of slang and other abbreviated signs, which have no place in vocabulary of those using the sign language. It is to be hoped that those of the deaf who can will help us in this fight to rid the sign language of these vulgar expressions. Let's all get together and make the sign language what it ought to be, a thing to be admired by all people, Oralist Advocates included.

For some years now a certain firm up in an Ohio town has been sending Prof. R. L. Davis circular letters, recommending that he take their cure for epilepsy. Some practical joker must have it in for Bob. But the only time we have ever seen him anywhere near having an epileptic fit, was when somebody suggested to him that he give a lecture in favor of the Pure Oral Method.

Mrs. Robert L. Davis' mother, of Hollywood, California, spent a two weeks visit with Mrs. Davis recently. She left for her California home on the 10th of March.

Mr. Leonard E. King, one of the more prominent Frats of Dallas, Texas, met with a rather unusual accident not long ago, which savors of the movie slapstick variety of comedy. It seems that King and Mr. W. A. Barnes were doing some repair work upon Mr. King's home, and Mr. King was up a ladder painting, when somehow or other he lost his footing, and slid some twenty-five feet to the ground, where he landed in a heap with a bucket full of green paint smack upon his head. For weeks after that, people wanted to know how Mr. King happened to have green hair. A short time later Mr. King stuck his foot into a bucket of paint, and he now has not only green hair, but a pair of green shoes, as he stuck the other shoe in to the paint bucket so that he would have a pair that look alike.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Maddox entertained the members of the Pastime Club, with a 42 party, at their beautiful South Austin home, on the 17th day of February last. The honors of the evening were carried off by Mr. Troy E. Hill and Mrs. Thornberry. The first prize, which was won by ye scribe, was a 24-pound sack of flour, which was a right handy prize, if you will take it from us.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Johnson, entertained the Pastime Club members with a St. Patrick's Day Party, at the Davis' home, on Friday night, March 17th. The house was tastefully decorated in green, in honor of Old St. Patrick himself. Several different games were played, the winners of which we are unable to recall.

Some time last winter the local Frat Club decided to have a 42 tournament at each monthly meeting. Today the score stands with R. L. Davis leading the field with 15 games won, however, he is closely followed by Messrs W. H. Davis, Troy Hill, and G. H. Brooks, who have each won 14 games. The rest of the members are spread out with wins ranging from 13 to 3. The final winner will be determined at the May meeting of the Club, and the winner will be awarded a leather medal.

Hon. Geo. G. Kannappell, our new Head Supervisor, is quite an automobilist these days. Recently he purchased a car, which he claims is a speedster, but it looks for all the world like somebody had got the dates mixed up somewhere in one of the factories. The engine runs like a regular Rolls Royce. The seat is a regular Cadillac pattern, the tires vary not only in size but in age, while the wheels are four different makes, one being a Buick, one a Chev., one a McFarland, and the other a Fiat. What shall we name this car, folks? She surely is a regular scrambled egg, but you can't get Kanny's goat, because in spite of all this abuse the darn thing runs right along, so I guess it must be a regular old Henry.

Mr. Tilden Smith, of Waco, recently invested a goodly amount of cold cash in an Overland touring car, and now we see the Hon. Tilden riding down Austin Street and never speaking to a soul. The stuckup cuss.

A good many of the deaf in Ft. Worth and Houston are reported out of work, many of them have been out of work for quite a while, therefore it behooves those of the deaf who have a job and are wise, to stick closer to it than muckilage to a postage stamp.

Messrs. Manor Sample and Harvey Ford, of Waco, are out of work in Waco, at present, on account of the strike of tailors in that city, brought on by a reduction of wages.

Mr. Alfred Hafner, of Waco, has been appointed foreman of the Bottling Department of a Waco company. His two sisters-in-law are also employed by the same company. Alfred recently invested his money in a new Buick Six touring car. We understand that Alfred is one of the best pitchers in the Waco City League. He was always a good pitcher while in school.

For a good many years, the Texas School for the Deaf has been competing with the High Schools, Academies, and Universities of the State in all athletic games, but up until this year steps were never taken to have the Athletic Department really stabilized. Last Fall an Athletic Association was organized, in order to raise money to bring teams to Austin and to buy medals and other suitable prizes for the best players in each branch of sport.

The manager tried to get the Texas Interscholastic League to take the Deaf team in, so that we could compete with the High Schools of the State for the different championships, but the League heads refused to admit us, therefore we were forced to go out of our class to join the Academy League, which was organized in Waco, Texas, recently. The following clipping from a Waco Newspaper, tells its own story:—

The Texas Academy Athletic conference is the name adopted by the seven representatives of academies and prep schools of the State who met at Baylor University yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of organizing an athletic league composed only of leading preparatory schools of Texas. The meeting was called by the athletic authorities of Baylor University and the conference will be under the general direction of that institution. All championship contests will be staged under the direction of the department of athletics of Baylor.

A set of by-laws, eligibility rules, schedules, etc., were adopted by the conference Saturday, and it was agreed that no member of the conference will play an athletic contest with a non-member academy or prep school. The conference members will be allowed to play high schools and junior colleges, however. No player over 22 years of age will be eligible to compete in championship contest, each school being placed on its honor to see that all eligibility rules are strictly enforced. Four courses must be carried by each athlete and he must be passing in two-thirds of his work in order to participate in a game.

A schedule was drawn up for the coming football season, at which time the conference will actually begin operation. Each school has four games scheduled with conference members and the winner will be awarded suitable trophy cups and medals by Baylor University. The final for the league championship will be played in Waco on Carroll Field.

ELECT OFFICERS.

Frank Bridges, director of athletics and head coach at Baylor University, was elected permanent president of the organization. He will have charge of all schedule making and will be the supreme tribunal for all disputes between members of the organization. John Reid, coach at San Marcos Baptist Academy, was elected vice-president, and R. H. Bogart, of Terrell school, Dallas, was elected secretary-treasurer. A membership fee of ten dollars is charged.

The following representatives from leading prep schools of the State were present at the meeting: J. W. Jones, Southwestern Military Academy, Dallas; Troy Hill, Texas School for the Deaf; John Reid, San Marcos Baptist Academy; E. A. Irvine, Academy Department of Dallas University; B. H. Moore, Allen Academy of Bryan; Nathan Powell, Training school, Dallas. Professor Henry Trantham, Baylor's representative on the Southwestern Collegiate conference, presided at the meeting. Meetings of the Academy conference will be held every third Monday of the month of December.

At the meeting of the Athletic Directors as above stated, we were able to secure one concession, that was that we be allowed to play one employee, or teacher, connected with school upon each of our athletic teams. The 4-year rule and age limit of 22, will also help us by making the other teams to stay down in their real place.

The baseball season started early at the Texas School this year, and we have the following games already played.

Feb. 13—T. S. D. 9; Nixon Clay College, 4.
Feb. 20—T. S. D. 14; Nixon Clay College, 4.
March 2—T. S. D. 13; Nixon Clay College, 1.
March 6—T. S. D. 3; Texas Univ. Fresh, 15.
(Practice.)

March 13—T. S. D. 9; Nixon Clay College, 0 (Forfeited).

The following games are scheduled or pending for the team.

March 18—St. Edwards College, at home.
March 20—Texas Short-horns, at home.
March 25—Baptist Academy, at home.
March 29—Giddings High, at Giddings.

BEN HUR.

St. Louis Briefs

Mrs. W. H. Schaub entertained a number of her lady friends at tea recently. The occasion was her birthday anniversary, and a very pleasant anniversary it proved to be.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Moegle are rejoicing on the advent of a fine boy, who arrived just in time to miss making Washington's birthday anniversary his very own. Hereafter the Nation's flag will be hoisted on two successive February days at the Moegle home, one in honor of the illustrious George and the other of the beloved Louis, Jr.

St. Louis Division N. F. S. D. has engaged a new meeting place, and will meet there for the first time on the evening of April 7th. The location is at the Eagles Hall, S.theast corner of Lafayette and Jefferson Avenues. The location is a desirable one in every way and also is convenient.

Miss Moffett Bell, who has been teaching at Gallaudet School since last September, has resigned to teach in the Louisiana School at Baton Rouge. She is a sister of Mrs. Guard Price of the Oklahoma School.

The train on which Miss Annie M. Roper was travelling from St. Louis to Alton on a recent afternoon, was held up by several armed robbers when just outside of East St. Louis. The hold up men confined their operations to one car. As Miss Roper was in another car her experience consisted of a succession of thrills.

A bad, bold, big, burly burglar paid an early morning visit to the home of Mrs. Mattie Merrell not long ago, and robbed the occupants of some three hours of perfectly good sleep. He found nothing of value to him lying around loose, and the articles he took away were dropped in the vicinity of the house and recovered by the owner.

The following clipping is from a local daily. Miss Clifford is a deaf young lady well known and active in Roman Catholic circles.

"A man snatched a purse from Miss Helen Clifford of 3704 Lindell Boulevard at 3 P.M. yesterday on Spring Avenue, near Lindell Boulevard. Several men pursued him and finally drove him into a yard at 2817 West Pine Boulevard. Policemen were called and arrested Peter Stolz of 4610 Olive Street, as he was coming out of the basement. He was identified by Miss Clifford as the man who took her purse. The purse, which contained $3 and a rosary, was found in his possession. He told the police he had been out of work for some time."

Mr. Grover C. Farquhar, a teacher at the State School at Fulton and editor of the Missouri Record, gave the initial lecture of the season's series of specials at St. Thomas' Mission, on the evening of February 26th. It was also Mr. Farquhar's initial appearance before a St. Louis audience. He made an excellent impression personally, topically, and by his sign delivery. The attendance exceeded expectations in view of unfavorable weather conditions, which goes to show that St. Louis is a good place for good lecturers to give good lectures. Mr. Farquhar's visit was appreciated, and since he is located nearby, here is hoping for frequent future visits of both Mr. and Mrs. Farquhar.

A number of friends of Mrs. Hattie Deem gave her a surprise birthday party recently, at which she was the recipient of many evidences of personal appreciation. Conversation and games filled up the evening while the guests filled up with refreshments. A new game, discovered by chance during the evening, proved to be such a success on its initial try out that it is worth passing along. Here is the formula: The guests being seated in a circle around the room, some one goes to the center, lays a goods-sized long-necked bottle on the floor and gives it a vigorous twirl. When the bottle ceases to move, the person towards whom the neck points is called upon for a short story of not more than two or three minutes in the telling. The teller then twirls the bottle and resumes his seat. Stock up with short, snappy stories, having a humorous trend, and give the game a tryout.

Citizens of the United States only are permitted to hold jobs on public works in Seattle.

OHIO.

(News items for this column may be sent to our Ohio News Bureau, care of Mr. A. B. Greener, 999 Franklin Ave., Columbus, O.)

March 18, 1922.—The unexpected usually happens, and the Ohio Home for Aged and Infirm Deaf was agreeably surprised one day this week, when it came into possession of a check for $500. The generous given is Miss M. Kinkel, of Cleveland, Ohio. The money is given to the men's building fund, and as an expression of gratitude to the Board of Managers for the great good it is doing for the Home. The Board greatly appreciates the goodness of the donor, as her gift came unsolicited. A brother, George W. Kinkel, is being cared for at the Home.

At the last Advance Society meeting, reports of the chairmen of the various booths at the valentine social were handed in and accepted. The treasurer, Mr. Ohlemacher, announced the net proceeds of the affair were $121.50, and that he had paid to the Treasurer of the Home out of the receipts the one hundred dollars the society had pledged to the building fund.

The various booths all had made a profit from sales, but the fish pond presided over by Messrs. Zell and Wark turned in the highest, $40.

The Secretary was ordered to return the thanks of the Society to Superintendent Chapman, of the Home, for the use of the dining room at the late house warming, and these people were thanked for donations and assistance at the Valentine party: Miss Bessie Edgar, $1; Mrs. A. B. Greener, $1; others: Mrs. G. W. Black, Miss Sue Hoover, Mrs. Beckert, Mr. and Mrs. Wark, Miss Rauch, Mrs. Zell, Mrs. Callison and her classes, Mr. Schwartz, Miss McGregor, Miss Zell, Miss Brothers.

Mr. Fred Schwartz asked and was extended financial aid by the Society, for enlarging the sales booth to be used at the forthcoming reunion of the Alumni, with the understanding that the expense amount be returned later.

President Bureham announced Messrs. Fred Schwarz, J. B. Show alter and Walter Wark as the General Committee for the 4th of July picnic at the Home.

Those of the teachers who were stricken with the flu or gripe have recovered and are back at their places. Miss Bessie McGregor was among the last to return. The writer too was down with the gripe, but was able to look after the Chronicle and JOURNAL work all the same. Mrs. Wm. Friend has been under the weather for some time but is gradually becoming herself again, while Mrs. Greener, who has been quite sick for over two weeks, is still in a precarious condition, but friends are hopeful for a better turn.

The first Basket ball team went over to Plain City last Friday and had a game with the team there. The hall was over a bakery, and the heat from it proved rather warm for O. S. S. D. team, and so the results proved disastrous to them, being beaten 44 to 34.

The Plain City team had promised to play a return game here Wednesday evening, but failed to come to time.

Rev. C. W. Charles held services in Trinity chapel last week, with an attendance of 40. Bishop Reese administered the Rite of Confirmation upon the following deaf people: Mr. and Mrs. Horace Davis, Leslie Oren, the blind-deaf man, and Howard Tatman, a pupil of the school.

Rev. Charles, in the afternoon accompanied by Mrs. Charles, conducted services at the Home for Deaf and administered the Holy Communion to members of the church. This was the first opportunity Rev. Charles had to visit the men's new building since it was opened for use. Both he and Mrs. Charles were much pleased with the furnishings and comforts the new house affords the occupants.

A. B. G.

NEWARK, N. J.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McMann was the scene of an enjoyable party. Sunday afternoon and evening, March 19th, when a number of friends and relatives were entertained. The affair was in the form of a birthday function, tendered to her "Royal Highness," Mrs. Agnes McMann, and was magnificently enjoyed.

Among the participants were Mr. and Mrs. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Reilly, Mr. and Mrs. Casella, Mr. and Mrs. Kauffman, Mr. and Mrs. Matzart, Mr. and Mrs. Dennison, and Messrs. Shannon, P. Allegart and J. Aven.

Dancing, games, and fun were indulged in, and was followed by a dainty supper, which was declared to be most delicious by every body, and greatly relished. Mrs. McMann was the recipient of many beautiful and useful presents, including many letters and telegrams of congratulatory nature, from her many far-away friends.

At the conclusion of the affair every body departed for home, wishing her Royal Highness long life and happiness, and were the recipients dainty wee tokens from her Royal Highness.

FANWOOD.

The Deaf Blind Class gave its program before the members of the Fanwood Literary Association, which was given in the chapel on the evening of March 16th. The program was well rendered and interesting.

Program in full is appended:—
STORY—"Dumpling's Wonderful Voyage, or the Child of the Sun," by Walter Oehm.

STORY—"The Wise Fox, or the Farmer who turned his Horse out because He could not Work," by George Ryan.

THE TWO POOR WORKMEN,

OR

THE LOST MONEY.

CHARACTERS.

"Fatty" Short, who was once an automobile maker, but lost all his money and became a poor grave-digger. George Ryan
"Skinny" Long, Assistant to "Fatty" Short, who became a poor grocery deliverer. Walter Oehm

A Policeman. Walter Oehm
Prologue, by Walter Oehm and George Ryan.

Act I., Scene I—A room in "Fatty" Short's House.

Act II., Scene I—Time: a few weeks later. Place: A street near the graveyard.

Act III., Scene I—An evening in "Fatty" Short's house.

Act IV., Scene I—The kitchen of "Fatty" Short's house.

Scene II—A street in front of "Fatty" Short's house.

Act V., Scene I—In a prison cell.

Upon entering the main office on Monday morning and glancing at the corner where our most genial secretary, Mrs. Stockbower, basks, the eyes of all were opened wide with amazement and wonder at the Mardi Gras appearance of that particular portion of the room. There were balloons, flags, flowers' everything. The occasion for this fancy decoration and exhibition of rejoicing was due to the fact that our esteemed friend, who always radiates sunshine and joy to all with whom she comes in contact, having reached the anniversary of her natal day. Teachers, officers, and all alike whom she has never tired striving to assist in some way or another, joined in contributing to the demonstration of their delight.

The regular meeting of the Fanwood Athletic Association took place on Wednesday evening, the 16th. The business of the meeting included the consideration of having a 3-mile bike race on May 30th.

Masters Michael Capossi, James Butler, Irving Auslander and Samuel Sandler, have been transferred from the Boys' Kindergarten to the Cadet group. They expect to wear new uniforms in a couple of weeks, and this will make their parents proud of them.

Cadet Sergeant Raymond McCarthy, and Cadets Harold Yager and Daniel Fox, went to the Madison Square Garden to witness the Six-Day Bike Race. They were in great excitement over it.

A change of programme, made necessary at the last moment, brought a new wrinkle into the proceedings of the Fanwood Literary Association on March 6th. Two groups of advanced pupils were pitted against each other in thinking out the correct expressions for definite actions. It was an exciting experience full of pleasure and profit to members! The boys won over the girls by 12 points to 1.

On March 14th, the Proteans had the privilege of going out to the Audubon Theatre. They enjoyed seeing John Barrymore in the "Lotus Eater."

Messrs. George Miller, and Lansing, of Little Falls, N. Y., and Mr. Bedell, of Waterford, N. Y., visited the Institution, accompanied by Cadet 1st Sergeant Czech, on Sunday evening, March 15th. They explained to the Proteans about the linotype machine.

On the evening of March 13th, there was a practice game of basket ball at our court. The Fanwood tossers defeated the Bronxites by the score of 29 to 20.

On March 15th, the Hebrew pupils went to the Temple at West 161st Street, to attend a Purim Party, given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Washington Heights Congregation. Refreshments were served and dancing was enjoyed.

The two tablemates of the cadets had a party to celebrate St. Patrick's Day on March 16th. Refreshments were served. Every one enjoyed himself.

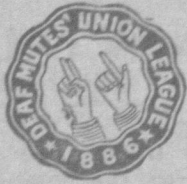

The pupils have just been measured, by Ridabock & Co., for new uniforms.

On Thursday, March 16th, the Battalion drilled for the first time this year.

Mrs. Patterson, one of the aged inmates of the Gallaudet Home, passed away on Friday, March 17th, and was buried in the Home Cemetery on the 20th. Rev. Mr. Kent officiated at the funeral service.
